How many power systems are there in Oman?
Currently,Oman has threedistinct power systems: the main interconnected system (MIS) in the northern part,the Dhofar power system (DPS) in the south,and Rural Areas Electricity Company (RAEC) systems. In 2015,the electricity supply was 25.513 TWh in the MIS,2.583 TWh in the DPS,and 0.816 TWh in other rural systems (AER,2016a).

Who is Senator power systems?
Senator Power Systems is an emerging provider of ruggedized power supply solutions,we specialize in design and development of reliable AC-DC Power Supplies,DC-DC Converters,High Voltage Battery Chargers.

Which government-owned companies provide electricity in Oman?
In the MIS,three government-owned companies that have licenses to distribute and supply electricity to customers according to their geographical location exist: MEDC,MZEC,and MJEC(AER,2016a). Eleven IPPs are connected to the MIS through the Oman Electricity Transmission Company (OETC) transmission network.

Does Oman have a sustainable power supply?
Any saving of natural gas used by power plants can be exported or utilized in other industrial activities. In rural areas, the RAEC utilizes diesel-based generators. Oman's supply mix diversification of primary resources is necessary for long-term security and sustainability of the power supply. Fig. 10.

Why is the electricity sector growing in Oman?
Because of the economic developmentin the Sultanate of Oman,the electricity sector witnessed a substantial growth since it was restructured in 2005. Three public electricity systems exist in Oman: MIS,DPS,and RAEC. The supplied electricity through public electricity networks increased from 12.7 TWh in 2005 to 28.9 TWh in 2015.

Does Oman use natural gas?
The electricity production in Oman is depending on fossil fuels as the only primary energy resource. In the MIS and DPS,power plants are supplied with natural gasby the Ministry of Oil and Gas (MOG). Fig. 10 shows a comparison of natural gas production and usage in Oman between 2005 and 2014 (IEA,2016).
