The starlink runs at around 50watt once up and running. And we would need to run the system for around 12 hours a day. A the moment we have a small "jackery" and solar panel but this will only run the starlink for a few hours. We would like to stay environmentally friendly and use solar where we can. I have considered the Ecoflow delta products.

My starlink uses about 55 watts WITHOUT the heater. So, 55 watts x 24 hours = 1320 watt-hours To allow for charging/conversion efficiency losses, you"ll need a battery of at least 2000 watt-hours. Then enough solar to recharge that every day. Solar PV is calculated over the middle 5 hours of the day when the sunlight is strongest.
